

Invitation to seminar in health economics

September 20, 12:00-17:00 at Hedstrandsalen, Uppsala University hospital (entrance 70),

During the fall the Health Economic Forum at Uppsala University will start a monthly seminar in health economics. The seminar is open for all researchers with an interest in health economics, and is scheduled to run the first Friday in the month 13:30-15:00. This new seminar series will start off with a half-day seminar on September 20, 12:00-17:00. Since we will start with lunch we kindly wish that you sign up for the seminar to erik.gronqvist@nek.uu.se no later than September 13.

The Health Economic Forum at Uppsala University is intended as an interdisciplinary venue for researchers interested in health economics coming both from economics and the medical faculty. The main activity will be a seminar in health economics, but we also plan to arrange courses in health economics and conferences. Information about the Health Economic Forum at Uppsala University and its activities will be available on hefuu.uu.se
